FLASH UPDATE 24 JANUARY 2024

edition 2024/02

Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>,

We re-emphasize in our Flash Update the importance of the pamphlet "Sustainable Aviation for The Netherlands". Signed by 31 different parties, symbolizing its wide public support! It got a warm welcome by many stakeholders.

This pamphlet will of course also be discussed during our upcoming webinar "the future of sustainable aviation". Please register below, and block your agenda on February 8th, from 4 to 5pm.

Schiphol's Head of Sustainability Denise Pronk gave our Members and Preferred Partners a presentation on Schiphol's ambition regarding Schiphol's sustainability agenda. Many different actions are being implemented to become the most sustainable airport! Check out her presentation and be impressed.

Also in this Flash Update we enclose interesting articles regarding the Red Sea crisis and the Panama Canal which have a direct effect on sea- and air cargo.

Last but not least we refer to data of IATA for November 2023: air travel demand worldwide topped 99% of 2019 levels. Flying is (again) in many ways a crucial part of our global society, the reliance on air travel in modern society is indisputable. It makes our pamphlet with the “ten commitments” even more valuable.

Enjoy reading the articles below and don't forget to register for our webinar.

Take care,

Marnix H Fruitema
Chairman

BARIN will organize another webinar on the future of sustainable aviation 8th February 4-5 p.m.

In case you have missed the invite sent earlier this week, please note that BARIN will be broadcasting a webinar from our studio in Hilversum where esteemed speakers Lodewijk Asscher (Chairman of the Sustainable Aviation Table), Anko van der Werff (President & CEO of SAS Scandinavian Airlines) and Arjan Meijer (President & CEO of Embraer Commercial Aviation) will be having a round-table discussion on the goals and ambitions to make our industry more sustainable and the best ways to get to a carbon-free aviation eventually.

Aviation sector publishes pamphlet with 10 sustainability commitments

On January 11th, BARIN together with 30 other parties jointly published a pamphlet “Sustainable Aviation for The Netherlands” with their 10 commitments to work towards a cleaner and quieter aviation future. We are very proud to be co-writer of this pamphlet and underline the force of so many different parties -from airlines to knowledge institutes and trade unions- signing this important vision for the years ahead.
